

New Zealand Association for Environmental Education (NZAEE)
8th Biennial Conference: An Ecosystem for Environmental Education
Wednesday 18 - Friday 20 April 2018
Wellington Girls College, Wellington, New Zealand

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

Educators, practitioners and supporters of environmental education are invited to submit abstracts of short presentations, short workshops, long workshops, or another format to be considered for the 2018 conference.

The closing date for abstract submission is 8pm on September 7th 2017, with no exceptions.

THEMES

It has never been a more exciting & challenging time to be an environmental educator in New Zealand and around the world. Join us as we examine the challenges and celebrate progress and successes in the Wellington region, nationally and beyond, through a diverse and fascinating array of presentations, workshops, field trips and networking opportunities.

This conference will be exploring two core streams that support our 'Ecosystem for Environmental Education' theme.

The Ecosystem for Environmental Education represents the vast and interconnected network of individuals and organisations without whom our successes wouldn't be possible. Throughout this conference, we'll be exploring our own ecosystem and the ways we can nurture it to ensure its health for decades to come.

- Celebrating and Strengthening Collaboration
This stream will celebrate current collaborations - identifying key aspects that make them successful and exploring tools and participatory design that will improve collaboration between partners and the wider community.

- Expanding Environmental Education
This stream will explore and celebrate the contributions made by individuals and organisations that are not traditionally aligned with school-based education. This may include tertiary education providers, businesses, NGO's, and private individuals.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Your submitted abstract will be considered by the Conference Committee. You will be advised whether your submitted abstract has been selected or declined, by October 5th 2017.

Presentations – 30min

These could either be reports of research or discussions on a particular topic. You will be expected to prepare a 20 minute presentation to be followed by 5 minutes' of discussion.

Short Workshops – 60min

These are 60 minute sessions wherein participants engage in discussion and debate on a particular topic, led by the submitter. We recommend that all workshops aim for an action-based outcome as a result of the discussion.

Long Workshops – 90min

These are 90 minute sessions wherein participants engage in discussion and debate on a particular topic, led by the submitter. We recommend that all workshops aim for an action-based outcome as a result of the discussion.

Other Format

We acknowledge and celebrate the fact that there are modes of delivery that may not fit within the previous three formats. The Conference Committee will consider abstract submissions for these alternative formats, though these still need to be 30, 60, or 90 minutes in length.

SUBMISSION REGULATIONS

- 1) Abstracts that don't meet the regulations may be rejected. Abstracts will be reproduced in conference materials exactly as submitted, so please check your abstract carefully before submission. Abstracts must signal original work. Case reports may be acceptable although the onus is on the author to demonstrate the significance of the report.
- 2) A condition of submission is that, if accepted, the abstracts will be published in the conference materials.

THE FORMAT OF THE ABSTRACT

Your abstract must be written in English or Maori and must be no longer than 250 words of text (excluding title, authors and institutions or affiliations, and references).
